GOLDEN WEDDING.

BERLIN, June 12.—Yesterday evening there was a grand Court reception, at which the Emperor and Empress received the congratulations of their distinguished company. Last evening the Emperor and Empress attended the opera, but retired after the second act, owing to the intense heat. The reception at the opera house was one of great magnificence. The illuminations lasting in the streets were thronged with people, rennight were splendid and widespread, and the streets were thronged with people, rendering them almost impassible. The Emperor, who was astonishingly well throughout the very fatiguing day, used a crutch and stick, owing to his recent fall, which has rendered him quite lame. He was wheeled upstairs in a carriage on an inclined plane, and was carried down stairs by his attendants. The Emperor yesterday, in honor of the event, sent 10,000 marks for the benefit of the poor of Berlin.

OFFIESSED BY LANDLONDS.

BERLIN, June 12.—At a meeting of the Board of Guardians at Nass the other day a resolution was adopted to the effect that the present agricultural depression and the prospect of worse times and greater distress imperatively demanded that landlords should consent to a reduction of rent proportionate with current prices and with should consent to a reduction of rent pro-portionate with current prices and with the agricultural products of the land. This resolution excited a warm and acrimonious debate, but was finally adopted by a unan-imous vote. The agitation among the peasantry has thus far been unaccompanied by any acts of violence, but the causes for it are patent, and it seems indisputable that unless the landlords consent at least to a portion of the demands made upon them, the tenants will be driven into a state of exasperation from which very serious conexasperation from which very serious con-sequences may be apprehended.

THE SLAVE TRADE CRUSHED.

LONDON, June 12.—The Khedive of Egypt has received dispatches from Captain Gessi, indicating that the slave trade at its chief center has at length been crushed, and that the vast rich territory of Soudan, reaching below degree 5 of north latitude, is soon likely to be opened to civilization and bona fide commerce. Gessi has been made Pasha, and he will probably bereafter act as Assistant Governor General of Soudan. Colonel Gordon is now at Dara, preparing for an introduction of general trade into that region. The Colonel denies that it is by the way of Barbera that merchants may henceforth enter these promising equatorial regions. THE SLAVE TRADE CHUSHED.

Rowin, colored member of the Legislature of St. Mary's Parish, toutified that the was present when Kellogg was elected Schalor.

There was a full quorum, and all voted for him. Thomas was present and voted. Spofford's friends had approached witness with a view of getting him to swear to an affidavit that Kellogg was not elected, and he refused to do so.

Witness has recently been offered a position in the Custom-boase by Republican officials for his general Republican services, but declined to take it—first, because he did not need it, and second, because it was an office likely to take him away from his home and family. The witness shood sharp cross-examination without fluchning.

Charles F. Brown, colored, also a shrewd, sharp, witty witness, who represented Jefferson Parish in the Legislature, testified that a full quorum voted for Kellogg and he saw the men Thomas and Savigne when they voted. Witness never received a cent for voting for Kellogg, nor was he offered anything, but was offered money to bolt and go over to the Nichols party.

The money was laad before nim, but he refused to go. Spofford's friends had been after him to testify in their interest before this Committee, saying that the writing on the wall clearly showed money that Kellogg was to be bounced out of the Senate. They offered him no inducements, but raid that when spofford got in he would have control of the Custom-house appointments and removais.
